SUMMARY

I am a freelance Producer, Editor, and Cinematographer with experience in end-to-end video content creation. I've just returned to California after 6 years in NYC working in media production. I've worked with a wide range of brands from Budweiser to Habitat for Humanity to local businesses. I started out as a producer at VaynerMedia, creating worldwide TV broadcast and web content for big brands. I spent the last couple years at Fullscreen Media - a social video company that specializes in youtube and instagram content for brands and influencers. My job as a Creative Producer & Editor was to ideate and pitch content ideas, then edit the videos for publishing on social channels. I also learned about optimization and how to work with the algorithms on social media. I believe collaboration makes everything better. Always. And I'm totally a nerd.
